

Habana Outpost Shuts Down Street to Hold Block Party

Ft. Greene eco-eatery owner Sean Meenan throws the baddest Block Party in Brooklyn!
Saturday, May 9th 2009 – 12 noon-12 midnight

New York City's first solar-powered restaurant is closing off South Portland Ave., between Lafayette and Fulton on Saturday, May 9th from noon to midnight. You can't afford to miss this FREE party with hot musical acts, designers market, live DJs, and a fashion show.

Schedule of Events:

12-1 pm: Local Dance Performances

Local dance crews "Showtime," from Roosevelt HS and "T.H.U.G.S." from Emmanuel Baptist Church will be showing off their moves as a special Block Party opener!

12-6 pm: Designers Market

Look Fly – Shop Local. Handmade/fair trade craft artisans will be pedaling their wares on S. Portland. Support the local people while looking stylish.

12-5 pm: DJ Herbert Holler

Founder/creator of "The Herbert Holler" hotlist & legendary NYC dj spins a mix of hip hop, rock, house, 80's, pop, disco, r&b, soul, funk, reggae, latin and dance. Check him out at www.myspace.com/djherbert

1 pm: Son De Brooklyn

Bringing the great music of Cuba and Latin America to NYC: the mambo, cha cha cha, bolero, merengue, Latin jazz, and son, the hypnotic dance music born in Eastern Cuba. More at www.myspace.com/sondebrooklyn

2 pm: Under the Rasta Influence

Authentic & highly original reggae band drawing from many influences. Only 3 years old, URI has opened for hip hop acts such as Jadakiss, The Brand Nubians, and Cassidy. www.URImovement.com

3 pm: All girls DMC team
